

Thank you for finally reining in the airwaves. It's about time! Why have standards for what's carried over the public airwaves when they are rarely, if ever, enforced. Adults can discern for themselves show content, but children can't, and that's what's at stake here in my opinion.